BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

MADE A NUMBER OF CHANGES IN THE VALUATION OF LOCAL PROPERTIES.

PERSONAL ASSESSMENTS ARE INCREASED

A Partial List Is Given, and It Will Be Perused With Interest Even By Those Whose Names Are Not "in It."

The Pettis county board of equalization has completed its labors and adjourned, after having passed upon the assessed valuation of real and personal property, and it is now up to the board of appeals to hear complaints. For this purpose the board will meet at the court house on Monday, April 26.

The board of equalization made, among others, the following increases in the value of realty:

Beller Grocer Co., from $8,000 to $12,000.

E. G. Cassidy, Main street property, from $1,500 to $2,000.

Sedalia Milling Co., from $2,000 to $2,400.

Igenfritz lot, corner Third and Osage streets, $2,500 to $4,000.

The $700 assessed valuation of the City hospital was reduced to nothing, it not being the desire of the board to tax the charitable institution.

In the matter of personal property a number of changes were made by the board of equalization as to valuation. A partial list is presented below, the two columns showing "former valuation" and "present valuation," viz:

HELP EX-CONFEDERATES

VOTE OF A REPUBLICAN SAVES PENSION BILL ON SECOND READING.

THIS MAN RESIDES AT HIGGINSVILLE, MO

Hon. Glover Branch Says He Can Not Go Home Unless He Supports the Measure—Divorce Bill Killed in the House.

Jefferson City, April 23.—By the vote of a republican, Glover Branch, of Lafayette, the house passed on second reading a bill to pension ex-Confederate soldiers at the rate of from $6 to $12 a month.

The vote was 62 for and 61 against. Branch voted with the democrats. Had he voted with his own party the measure would have been killed.

Coakey, a democratic member from Kansas City, voted with the republicans to defeat the bill.

Branch comes from a county that has in it the ex-Confederate soldiers' home. When taken to task by Representative Lloyd for party disloyalty, and asked if he was a "bushwhacker," Branch replied proudly that he was, "and you might know that when you recollect that all the bushwhackers who do not live up in my county get their mail through that postoffice. I dare not go home without getting this bill through, if my vote will do it."

There is no likelihood that the bill will be able to get the requisite seventy-two votes to pass it when it next comes up. Although made to apply also to Union veterans, the fact that they are already provided with pensions, the Missouri measure making previous pension a disability, the bill really would be of benefit only to ex-Confederates.

Because of a dearth of teachers in the state, the house killed a bill to bar from employment as teachers near relatives of members of local school boards.

It also killed a bill which would have made it a crime for an express company or expressman to "in any manner furnish" intoxicating liquors within the boundaries of any dry county.

The first of the constitutional appropriation bills were passed on the third reading, those applying to the civil list, schools and for the collection of taxes.

The house killed a bill which provided that infidelity should be the only ground for absolute divorce.

WANT GOV. HADLEY HERE

To Deliver Address at Elks Celebration of Flag Day.

J. W. Mellor, C. C. Kelly, W. M. Johns, A. R. Easton and W. D. Steele went to Jefferson City on the noon train today to ask Governor H. S. Hadley to deliver an address at the celebration of Flag Day in this city by Sedalia lodge No. 125, B. P. O. Elks, on June 14, Monday.

The Sedalia lodge of Elks contemplates an elaborate celebration of Flag Day here this year. The program will be held on the evening of June 14, probably at the Sedalia theater.

There will be a select musical program with services appropriate to the day.

This year's celebration of Flag day will be the 132d anniversary.

PEORIA WON FIRST POINT

STRUGGLE OVER REMOVAL OF ILLINOIS STATE FAIR AT WHITE HEAT.

MEASURE ADVANCED TO THIRD READING

The Distillery City Offers $100,000 Site and $250,000 Cash Bonus—Springfield Confident of Victory in the End.

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Peoria won first blood yesterday in the sensational fight with Springfield over removal of the state fair.

Springfield, realizing there were not enough votes in the house to strike out the enacting clause of Representative Blair's fair removal bill, let the measure advance to third reading without opposition, though for two hours the house, with its galleries crowded, heard and cheered addresses of men who represented the rival claims.

More than a thousand men, headed by the combined bands of Springfield, paraded the streets yesterday morning, stormed the state house, filled all available space and lobbied in Springfield's interests. Peoria sent a delegation on a special train. During the discussion, while the house sat as committee of the whole, with Representative Zinger, of Pekin, presiding, there was cheering from both crowds of "rooters," such as one would hear at a ball game.

Frank J. Quinn took for Peoria, contending that Springfield had failed to make the fair a paying proposition, despite the immense appropriations sought from the legislature at every session. He ridiculed this city's hotel accommodations and jabbed Springfield with javelins of sarcasm about its water and its entertainment of the legislature. He said that Peoria was the center of a more populous district, that Peoria had more population and that removal would insure great attendance. He offered $250,000 as a building fund and $100,000 for a primary inducement for the fair.

Congressman James M. Graham, former Congressman James A. Connolly and former Governor Richard Yates argued for Springfield against the abandonment of the million-dollar state fair property here, and said to remove the fair would violate a contract the state had made with the city of Springfield. Statistics were used in great volume to meet Peoria's argument.

Friends of Springfield contend the bill was permitted to advance to the third reading because many members had agreed to vote with Peoria out of courtesy for the Peorians in the legislature—Representatives Blizak, Butts, Gorman and Senator Dailey—and that when the bill is placed upon its passage all these complimentary votes for the Peorians will swing back into line for Springfield and defeat the bill.

The two rival cities are stirred over the fight as never before, and the keen rivalry, already intense, is at white heat.

A 3-MONTHS BABY TALKS

THIS PRECOCIOUS INFANT IS SAID TO RESIDE AT HOPKINS, MISSOURI.

PARENTS ARE ALMOST PANIC STRICKEN

The Baby Cried Wednesday Night, and When Asked By Mother What Was the Matter, Answered, "My Hand Hurts Me."

Maryville, Mo., April 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray, residents of Hopkins, Mo., were thrown into consternation Wednesday night when their three-months-old baby, Charlotte, who had been crying and was asked by her mother what was the matter, immediately replied:

"My hand hurts me."
Yesterday, according to Dr. C. W. Kirk, a physician, who was called Wednesday night by the panic-stricken parents, the baby is saying "mamma, papa" and prattling short sentences, with the voice of a 10-year-old child. Dr. Kirk also claims the baby laughed heartily on the day of its birth and now has two teeth.

Wednesday night, when the tot made reply to its mother's questioning, its grandparents and many neighbors were sent for by the father and mother, who feared something terrible had befallen the child.

BUREAU TO RULE LABOR

MORGAN, ROCKEFELLER, HARRIMAN ET AL. FORM AN EMPLOYMENT BODY.

UNION LEADERS SEE MENACE TO CAUSE

In the Event of a Strike It Is Claimed the Organization's Vast Funds Would Favor the Side of Capital.

New York, April 23.—What the incorporators declare to be an organization for the mutual benefit of employers and employees, but which labor leaders believe to be an attempt on the part of employers to control the labor market throughout the country, was incorporated yesterday under the name of the National Employment exchange, and $100,000 contributed with any amount additional promised.

The subscribers to this fund are: Jacob H. Schiff, J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Russell Sage Foundation, Frederick G. Bourne, Edward S. Harkness, John S. Kennedy, Robert W. DeForest, George Blumenthal, George F. Baker, Adolph Lewisohn, Edward H. Harriman, John D. Archbold, Elbert H. Gary, Cornelius N. Bliss, Otto H. Kahn, John R. MacArthur, V. Verrit Macey, Paul M. Warburg, Felix M. Warburg, Mortimer L. Schiff, Otto T. Bannard, Francis L. Hine, Isaac L. Seligman, John G. Milburn, William H. Moore, James A. Scrymser and John S. Huyler.

A glance at this list embracing as it does representatives of the Standard Oil and nearly all the railroads of the country, is what is giving labor leaders serious concern.

They incline to the belief that while Rockefeller, Morgan, Harriman and others have promised unlimited funds for the carrying out of their plan, their object is nothing more or less than an attempt to dominate the labor market of the entire country by giving preferences to those applying for work at their employment agencies.

They are of the opinion there will be discrimination against union labor and they fear that, in the event of a strike in one section of the country, strikebreakers will be promptly sent to that point by the National exchange.

According to the incorporation papers, the purpose is "usefulness and the motives philanthropic. Fees will be charged, and the primary effort will be to fill orders for laborers or employees in a satisfactory manner, with good material."

PEACE FOR COAL REGION

MINERS' PRESIDENT REACHES AN AGREEMENT WITH OPERATOR'S COMMITTEE.

THE ACTION IS TO BE RATIFIED TUESDAY

Workmen in Anthracite District Are Said to Have Been Granted Concessions—No Danger of Strike for 3 Years.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 23.—Peace in the anthracite coal regions is absolutely assured for another three years at least.

President Thomas L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, who, with the three district presidents, has been in conference here with a subcommittee of the operators in this city during the last two days, made a positive announcement last night that a new working agreement would be signed before the end of next week.

This contract will be based upon a proposition which has been submitted by the operators and which, in the opinion of Mr. Lewis and his colleagues, contains a number of important concessions.

FUNERAL OF MR. BOWERS

Be Held From Broadway Presbyterian Church at 2 P. M. Saturday.

The last sad rites over the remains of Joseph A. Bowers, formerly out-of-town solicitor for the Democrat-Sentinel, who died at 1:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon, will be held at the Broadway Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The pastor, the Rev. D. M. Clagett, will officiate, and burial will be made in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Harvey MacGugin will be in charge of the music. She will be assisted by Miss Eunice Coulter and Messrs. Charles Menefee and C. C. Lawson. Miss Jessie Smith will preside at the organ.

The selections to be rendered are: "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me," "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Abide With Me." The selections and those rendering them are identical, with the substitution of Miss Cousley for Miss Lou Menefee, to those had at the funeral of Mrs. Bowers, who died exactly one month ago today.

The following will serve as pallbearers: J. W. Menefee, sr., N. V. Gorrell, N. F. Ebersole, J. G. Dillard, R. D. McCubbin and A. D. Stanley. M. F. LeRoy, of Manchester, Ia., a nephew of the deceased, will arrive tomorrow at noon to attend the funeral.

Miss Frances Woolery entertained twenty-five guests at her home, 1511 East Sixth street, last night, in honor of the anniversary of the birth of Miss Bertha Dill. A spelling bee and games furnished the amusement, after which refreshments were served.

The guest of honor was presented with a number of beautiful presents.

Those present were: Claud Yanke, Ira Bryan, Edgar Reed, Flavius White, Howard Robertson, John Reinert, G. W. Shillock, J. F. McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carter, Mrs. S. A. Woolery, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keeling, Myra Winterbower, Mrs. Wilson, Jewell Harter, Gertrude Hoffmaster, Adeline Sheets, Myrtle Sheets, Ella Sheets, Nena Bryan, Lucy Kenney, Bertha Dill, (Frances Woolery, May Leach and Vivian Russell.

HE HAD SMOOTH TONGUE

BELIEVED HE IS SAME PARTY WHO SWINDLED GREEN RIDGE RESIDENT.

HE FOUND VICTIM AT KNOBOSTER ALSO

Answers Description of the Fellow Who Operated at Winchester, Kas., Working G. B. Worldly for the Sum of $15.

A smooth-tongued confidence man has been working in Kansas and Western Missouri the past several months. That he has been quite successful cannot be doubted, from the fact that he has always landed the money and has never been caught, so far as is known.

The Democrat-Sentinel last Sunday told of the fellow having swindled L. C. Proctor, a liveryman of Green Ridge, out of $35, and the Knob Noster Gem has the following that is believed to refer to the same fellow:

Judging by the way he works, this man must be the one who played a game in Knob Noster about a month ago. He came in from the east Wednesday afternoon, March 21, and put up at the Hotel McIntosh.

He claimed to be a salesman for the Freeman Oil Co., of Toledo, Ohio. The next morning he approached J. W. McIntosh, the proprietor, after stating that he had to have expense money, and asked him to put his name on a draft for $31, thus identifying him so he could cash it. This Mr. McIntosh refused to do, whereupon the salesman pulled out a bogus telegram from the Freeman Oil Co., stating that they would honor all checks or drafts for their salesman, E. C. Edwards.

As Mr. McIntosh had assisted drummers in this way before, he placed his name on the draft and the stranger got the money. The draft came back from St. Louis in a few days, protested, and the loss fell on Mr. McIntosh, with 50 cents extra for the bank's work.

The confidence man in looks impressed one as being a gentleman, was not talkative and might have been taken for a clergyman. He was about five feet and inches in height and probably weighed about 180 pounds, had a smooth, dark face, black hair and wore a neat grey suit.

G. B. Worldly, of Winchester, Kas., who has bought the J. M. Wallace farm northwest of town, says the man's description tallies with that of a fellow who worked him out there February 6th. He claimed to be from Omaha, named J. E. Wells and got $15 from the liveryman by persuading him to identify the stranger on a draft.

The same fellow also got $35 from a hotel man at Whiting, Kas., through the same game. It seems that he is making it a business to swindle hotel keepers and liverymen.

A letter sent from here to the Freeman Oil Co., brought an answer saying that they never had such a man in their employ.

BARR BACK TO THE ASYLUM

Discharged Few Months Ago, Supposed to Be Cured.

William Barr, aged over 55, who on June 4, 1908, was adjudged insane by the Pettis county court, and who was taken to the asylum at Nevada, but later discharged as cured, will be returned to that institution by Deputy Sheriff James Card this evening.

Barr has been living with his son, nine miles north of Sedalia, since being released from the asylum several months ago.

At midnight last night the son notified Sheriff Henderson that his father was again mentally unbalanced, and asked that an officer be sent after him.

Deputy Card drove after the man, returning here early this morning. Barr is now in the county jail.

Burglars Coming This Way.

Chief of Police W. H. Boult received a telephone message this morning stating that a store at Boonville had been robbed by two men some time last night and two suit cases filled with clothing had been stolen.

The message stated that the men had started toward Sedalia, and requested that the Sedalia police keep a lookout for them.

FARNUM AND MRS. GOULD

A FULL EXPLANATION BY THE
ACTOR IN A DEPOSITION IN NEW YORK.

THE FOOTLIGHT FAVORITE DENIES IT ALL

Went Motoring With Her Solely Because He Liked to Ride, He Said, and He Never Saw
Her Drunk.

Chicago, April 23.—From the "foolish chairs" of Atlantic City to "wobbly champagne times," or any place with Dustin Farnum, and for a part of the trip with Mrs. Catherine Clemmons Gould. It was a long, riotous, rollicking trip to be taken in one afternoon, but several lawyers, witnesses and spectators accompanied the actor over the route while he set the pace, verbally.

Mr. Farnum appeared before Louis
Ehle, an attorney, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and until 6 o'clock
last night he was answering questions pertaining to his acquaintance with Mrs. Howard Gould. His deposition was taken as a part of the evidence in the suit in which Gould is seeking a divorce from his wife.

"What was your reason for going on these motor trips with Mrs.
Gould?" asked A. R. Watson, who is representing Gould.

"Why," replied Farnum, "simply because I enjoy motors. I would go motoring with anybody because I like to ride in them."

"What color are Mrs. Gould's eyes?"

"O, as to that, why, I really don't know."

"Do you mean to say that you never looked at Mrs. Gould's eyes?"

"Yes, I have looked at them often,
but never in them."

"How tall is Mrs. Gould?"

"I can't say exactly, but I should say that she is a little shorter than I."

"That would be allowing, I presume, for her hat and high heels?"

"Certainly. I never saw Mrs. Gould with her hat off."

Then Clarence Shearn, attorney for Mrs. Gould, asked about the supposed trip in one of the chairs on the boardwalk in Atlantic City, when Farnum was said to have occupied a chair with Mrs. Gould.

"O, you mean the foolish chairs?"
corrected Farnum. "I was in one of them, but not the same one Mrs.
Gould occupied. I recall more particularly two girls who giggled so much that they made good on the 'foolish
chair' name."

"Did you ever see Mrs. Gould under the influence of champagne or such drinks?"

"Never."

"Tell us, please, what effect champagne has on one."

"On different people, different effects. Often it makes one wobbly legged. I have a particular friend who always talks loudly under the influence of the drink—a man who never speaks in a loud voice at other times."

Mr. Shearn then spoke of the direct charge made by Mr. Gould.

"It is charged that you were guilty of indiscretions with Mrs. Gould every day at the St. Regis hotel while you were playing in Brooklyn," began the lawyer.

"It's a lie! It's—" and then Farnum stopped himself and resumed his seat.
In reply to other questions he said that he had been only her friend and stage adviser.

DO YOU OWN A HYOMEI INHALER?

If you have a little Hyomei inhaler (pronounced High-o-mei) in your home
you have a treasure.
Into this hard rubber inhaler you can pour a few drops of Hyomei and, presto, you have the best little physician for catarrh, coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup and asthma, the world has ever known.

When you breathe Hyomei you bring the healing virtues of the mountainous forests to your home. You get the very same healing, antiseptic air that you would breathe if you resided in the forests of pine and eucalyptus of inland Australia, where catarrh or consumption was never known to exist.

If you have a Hyomei Inhaler in your home, get a bottle of Hyomei for 50c.

If you have not an inhaler, ask for a complete outfit, which costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei, and simple instructions for use.

Hyomei is sold and guaranteed by W. E. Bard Drug Co. to cure catarrh, asthma or bronchitis, or money back.
It will relieve a cold in five minutes,
and will break it up in five hours. It gives most gratifying relief to consumption sufferers, and is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

"Sure thing!" yawned Rip as he lit

"Well, how on earth did you keep

Rip laughed.

"Ah, no, my friends," he chuckled,
"but there are plenty of mountain ranges."

And picking up his stick the old man

"AGGIES" HOLD STOCK SHOW

Salome Dance a Feature of Students'
Annual County Fair.

Columbia, Mo., April 23.—Two hundred agricultural students at the University of Missouri worked all of Wednesday night, preparing for the county fair, the annual "stunt." The entire student body took a holiday
last afternoon to attend the stock and side shows.

The Salome dance was the biggest "sell" on the grounds. A large picture of a half clad woman rested upon a dance platform. This picture was painted by Alphonso Schwartz, an "aggie."

Farmers in the vicinity brought their fine stock and showed for premiums, which are ribbons tied by competent judges of horses, cattle, sheep and swine. The interest of the morning centered in the stock.

The "shoot-the-chutes" was a car suspended to a wire. The car landed in a pond of water. The "cave of the devils" was supplied with wind by the straw blower of a threshing machine. The motive power was furnished by a gasoline engine.

The mud eater from the Nile valley was a negro, who fed upon chocolate gelatine.

CHARGED WITH BLACKMAIL

Threatening Letters Involved Salisbury, Mo., Family.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 23.—William Adcox was arrested here yesterday at the request of the sheriff of Salisbury, Mo. Adcox, it is alleged, has been connected with an attempt to blackmail Newton Long, a farmer, near Sumner, Mo.

David Adcox, his brother, is now being sought. His wife has been convicted on a similar charge and sentenced to a year in jail at Keytesville.

David Adcox was employed by Mr.
Long and was discharged. In a few days Long received a letter demanding $5,000, to which he paid no attention, and several days later he received another letter, demanding $10-000.

The letters were threatening and said if the money was not forthcoming his barns would be burned. A week elapsed and Long's barns and hog pens were burned. David Adcox was arrested, but escaped.

HANGMAN WAS ALSO SURGEON.

Until 100 Years Ago Executioners
Were Permitted to Practice.

Two or three centuries ago executioners not infrequently performed surgical operations, says the British Medical Journal. This seems to have been particularly the case in Denmark.
July 24, 1579, a license was issued by Frederick II. to Anders Freimut, executioner of Copenhagen, granting him
the right to set bones and treat old wounds; he was expressly forbidden to meddle with recent wounds. In 1609 it is recorded in the municipal archives of Copenhagen that Gaspar,
the hangman, had received four rigs-dalers for the cure of two sick children in the infirmary. In 1638 Christian IV.
summoned the executioner of Gluckstadt in Holstein to examine the diseased foot of the crown prince. In a letter addressed to Ole Worm, a leading Danish physician of the day, Henry Koster, physician-in-ordinary to the king, complains bitterly of the slight thus put upon him. He says that for two whole months the hangman, "who is as fit to treat the case as an ass is to play the lyre," had the case in hand and the doctor was not asked his advice. . . . Again, in 1681, Christian V. gave a fee of 200 rigs-dalers to the Copenhagen hangman for curing the leg of a page. In 1732, Bergen, an executioner in Norway, was authorized by royal decree to practice surgery.

Even up to the early years of the nineteenth century this extraordinary association of surgery with the last penalty of the law continued. Erik Peterson, who was appointed public executioner at Trondhjem in 1796, served as surgeon to an infantry regiment in the war with Sweden, and retired in 1814 with the rank of surgeon-major. Frederick I. of Prussia chose his favorite hangman, Coblenz, to be his physician-in-ordinary. It might be suspected that this peculiar combination of functions had its origin in a satirical view of the art of healing;
but in the records we have quoted we can trace nothing of the kind. Perhaps the executioner drove a trade in human fat and other things supposed to possess marvelous healing properties; he may thus have come to be credited with skill in healing, though the association surely represents the lowest degree to which the surgeon has ever fallen in public esteem and social position.

MRS. ROSE SEEKS DIVORCE

Says Husband Took Theater Funds and Deserted Her.

Mrs. Alta Rose, formerly Alta Hill, instituted proceedings in circuit court today for a legal separation from her husband, John E. Rose, to whom she was married in this state on October 2, 1908.

According to the petitioner's allegations, Rose was formerly connected with the Aurora theater. Two weeks after he had been married he absconded with the theater's funds. He also deserted his wife, and to this day she has not heard from him.

CLARK GUILTY; 15 YEARS

A JURY RETURNED SECOND DEGREE VERDICT AGAINST FLOOD'S SLAYER.

FIVE HOURS IN REACHING AN AGREEMENT

Prisoner Testifies That Prior to Slaying, He Found Wife and Victim Together—Home Had Been Ruined.

St. Louis, Mo., April 23.—James E. Clark, who, on Dec. 5, last, shot and killed James W. Flood, a telegraph operator, was convicted last night in Judge Allen's court by a jury of second degree murder and was assessed a fifteen-year penitentiary sentence. He was tried for first degree murder, but the jury, after taking many ballots, reduced the charge, and returned the verdict at 10 o'clock, after deliberating for five hours. Flood was the "star boarder" in Clark's home at 3420 Bell avenue, and the shooting, according to testimony, was due to jealousy.

Clark declared on the witness stand that he was compelled to shoot Flood in defense of his own life. Flood, he said, attacked him when he returned home to get his clothing.

"I had prepared to return to Jefferson City, my former home, and I went home for the express purpose of packing up my clothing," Clark said. "When I entered the parlor Flood was reading a paper. He sprang from the chair with an oath and struck me. I drew my revolver as he forced me through the front window and shot him."

Although Judge Allen ruled Wednesday that any reference to the "unwritten law" would not be tolerated, Clark was allowed to testify concerning an incident which he said occurred Sept. 12, 1908. On that date, he said, he returned to his home unexpectedly and found his wife and the telegrapher in a compromising position.

"When I rebuked them, Flood threatened me," Clark testified.

At Wednesday's session witnesses for the state testified that Flood was the first to fall through the window. Clark then stepped through the window and fired two shots into Flood's body as he lay prostrate on the floor. Flood then rolled down the steps and Clark followed, firing two more shots into either his head or body, witnesses said.

Concerning this testimony, Clark stated to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Dyer that he did not remember just what happened after the first shot was fired.

In his arguments Dyer declared Clark had lived with his wife after Sept. 12. "Why did he not kill Flood at the times he says he found them together?" Dyer asked.

Attorney Ferris, who defended Clark, based his plea on a statement that Flood had ruined Clark's life and broken up his home.

To Honor Ladies of White House.

It is unfair and uncourteous in us as a nation that all of the wives of our presidents are not represented among the portraits in the White House, and it is hoped that this stigma may soon be removed, writes a correspondent. An effort is to be made to enlist the women of the states who have had the honor of having a daughter who has been the mistress of the White House to club together and place her portrait upon its walls, as the women of Tennessee did for Mrs. Polk. In this effort care will be taken that only the best artists are commissioned with the work and that a uniformity of design is followed in all the pictures.

The most historic part of the White House—that is, the collection of presidential ware—is contained in six cabinets standing in the lower east corridor of the mansion. Soon after Mrs. Roosevelt became the mistress of the mansion she saw that there was nothing in it representative of the great majority of the presidents who have occupied the high office beyond their portraits. This and the desire to save something of the presidential china which was then in the White House led her to start the collection. She was so successful in this endeavor that the collection now contains some piece of china, plate or glass which was used by every president's family except those of Zachary Taylor, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Van Buren and Johnson, and efforts are now under way whereby it is expected that the collection will be completed within a year. It has been made a part of the bureau of public buildings and grounds and is the permanent property of the government.

Woman's Generous Act.

"I give and bequeath my real estate for the use of my husband during his life, and at his death, I direct that it be divided share and share alike between my children and any children that my husband may have with another wife after I am dead." This unusual generosity of a wife toward the children of her probable successor in the affections of her husband is an extract from the will of Mrs. Dorothy Creveling, late of Scott township, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Creveling died in 1877, leaving a fine farm and other valuable real estate. Her husband, Benson Creveling, and three children survived her. Later he married another and five children were born. Recently all of the eight children joined in a petition to the court for permission to sell the real estate at private sale and divide the proceeds.

Where Families Are Large.

Although the population of France is declining, there are parts where large families are not the exception, but the rule. The little village of Verrieres, near Pontalier on the Swiss frontier, where Gen. Bourbaki met with disaster in 1871, is a case in point. It is a picturesque spot. Families of ten or a dozen are common. Last week M. Simon, a farmer, celebrated his golden wedding in the presence of 42 children and grandchildren. Mme. L. Botte, a farmer's wife, has had 26 children. M. Crelier, the receiver of taxes, is the happy father of 25 children. M. Hamard, a farmer, is father to 20, and M. Longchamps' wife has borne him 19.—London Globe.

COR. 4TH AND OHIO ST., SEDALIA, MO.

SETTING HER MIND AT EASE.

Landlord's Endeavors to Reassure His Fair Guest.

She was the wife of an army officer on her way to a western fort, and when a stop was made at the tavern in a pioneer town for the night she looked about on the rough characters and asked the landlord if there was trouble.

"Not a bit of it, ma'am," he smilingly replied. "Everything is all serene and will continue right on. There's a duffer in town who says he can make me eat dirt, but I ain't goin' to tell him to try it on till you git gone. I know what belongs to manners."

"Thanks, ever so much."

The lady had finished supper and was on her way to her room when the host halted her to say:

"A galoot named Jim Wheeler has just sent me word that he can break me in two, and he will be here in ten minutes to do it. Would you mind if I lit on to him?"

"But there'd be a fight!" she queried.

"Yes, a powerful fight."

"Then I hope you won't."

"All right, ma'am—all right. I've allus been a gentleman and allus hope to be."

She thought she had seen the last of the landlord for the night, but she hadn't. An hour later he knocked at her door and anxiously said:

"That's a wall-eyed heathen out yere what needs shooting, but I won't do it to-night on account of you. I'd like to ax you, however, if I might take three drinks at my own bar?"

"But you might get drunk."

"Not at all, ma'am. I know my manners better'n that. I'll just jump on my hat and hoot, and if I have to put a knife in a critter's ribs I'll do it so softly you won't hear a word. I'm a gentleman and you are a lady, and if necessary I'll kill five or six galoots between this and daylight to make 'em believe it!"—Kansas City Journal.

The Road Angel.

"The road hog," said a motorist, "is the man who searches on frequented highways, who kills chickens and dogs gleefully, who slays human beings and then makes off. The road angel—"

He paused. He could not think of words sufficiently laudatory of the road angel. At length he said:

"That rare, but increasing type, the road angel, may be told infallibly by one sign. The road angel slows down so that the dust of his great car may not annoy the passing pedestrian. And what blessings are rained on his head! The pedestrian sees the oncoming car in its swirl of dust. He shrinks as far away as possible. He turns his head aside and puts his handkerchief over his mouth and nose. And lo, with a gracious smile, the road angel slows down, he passes the pedestrian with no more dust than a bicycle would make.

"When you meet with the road angel don't neglect to thank him. By the same token, shake your fist and shout abuse at the road hog who suffocates you in his dust, for he knows quite well that is doing a rude and selfish thing."

The Pathos Went Wrong.

Irving Bacheller, the novelist, is of unusually agreeable appearance and address. Once when he was a reporter on a New York morning newspaper the Sunday editor said to him:

"I want you to write me a good story about the trials and discouragements of men who are looking for work in a big city. Get up early tomorrow, put on some old clothes and visit all the places that advertise for male help in the morning paper. Give an account of the number of applicants and the kind of men they are, and describe vividly the feelings of a poor devil who, perhaps, has had no breakfast and has walked miles because he

CASES THROWN OUT OF COURT

Trouble Last Night Between Lee Hodges and George Dillard.

George Dillard, of East Fourth street, had an appointment to meet Mrs. Lee Hodges, formerly Miss Lou Dixon, wife of an M. K. & T. switchman, in the vicinity of the Franklin school building at 8 o'clock last night, ostensibly to hear something which Dillard said would interest her.

She was there on time, likewise Dillard, also Mr. Hodges, who was accompanied by his father.

Incidentally, Deputy Constable Morg Brown was on the scene, and shortly after Dillard and Mrs. Hodges began talking the latter's husband appeared on the scene and began punching Dillard's face.

Deputy Brown interfered and arrested both Dillard and Hodges, but their cases were thrown out of court today.

Had to Have Her Cigarettes.

Because the management of the hotel after a frantic but fruitless searching of the city, was unable to provide any of the peculiar brand of London cigarettes which she is accustomed to smoke and which she is absolutely essential to her happiness, Mrs. George Wyndham, a wealthy and pretty young English woman, from exclusive Hyde Park, London, gave up her handsome apartments in the Hotel Plaza in New York. With her pretty and demure English maid she went to visit friends in Tuxedo park, where, she said, she would have no trouble in getting all of the cigarettes of the brand she so much desired, but of which she has been deprived.

Seeing Boston.
A rural gentleman engaged an amateur guide to conduct him around Boston on a sightseeing trip. On their way to the statehouse the pair passed through the Public garden. The farmer seemed greatly impressed with the statue "Commemorating the discovery that the inhaling of ether causes insensibility to pain."

A few minutes later they reached the statehouse grounds. Again the farmer's attention was attracted by a statue. It was a statue of Maj. Gen. Nathaniel P. Banks, and had been set up but not yet unveiled. The figure of the general had been heavily padded, and wrapped with muslin to protect it during shipment, and as yet the padding had not been removed.

Gazing at the besetwathed figure, the farmer exclaimed: "Wall, I swan! What be that?"
"That," said the guide looking in vain for an inscription to enlighten him, "that is"—he scratched his head—"that is to commemorate the discovery of the benefit of the plaster-cast."

One on the Workman.

When Tommy was taking papa his dinner he stopped for a moment to watch a workman emptying a sewer.
"That," remarked Tommy interestedly, "is the grate my brother lost a shilling down."

The workman's eyes lit up.
"Well, young man," he said, with a show of carelessness, "you'd better get forward with that dinner before it's cold."

In about half an hour Tommy returned, to find the man still at the same grate.

"Are you quite sure it was this grate the shilling was lost in?" said the workman.

"I am certain," replied Tommy, "because I saw my father get it out."—Tit-Bits.

WORK OF HOME PUPILS

In the Manual Training Department Is Being Shown.

More than four hundred ladies and gentlemen of this city have viewed the displays of the manual training department of Sedalia's graded schools in the building over Ramsey's Racket, at Sixth street and Ohio avenue. The attendance yesterday was satisfactory, and it is equally large today.

Miss Ethel Shoddy, teacher in that department, is in charge.

The displays are interesting, to say the least, and are viewed with enthusiasm by everyone.

For the benefit of shopmen and other working people, the exhibit will be open tomorrow night.

FAVOR THE "JIM CROW" BILL

It Applies to Street Cars as Well as Railway Trains.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 23.—The senate committee on railroads today reported favorably the Oliver "Jim Crow" bill, after adding an amendment making the measure apply to street cars as well as railway trains.

Prune Pie.

Make your crust quite rich. This is a good recipe for crust. Take two cups of flour for two pies, add a little salt, one-half teaspoon of soda, one of cream tartar. Sift together with one teaspoon of sugar, two large tablespoons of lard and one of butter. For filling take one pound of prunes, wash in warm water, soak over night in one quart of water and boil very slowly till tender, then stone and mash. Add a pinch of table salt, two cups of sugar. This will make three pies.

Walnut Cream.

Rub a cream cheese to a paste with a silver fork. If not soft enough add a little melted butter or sweet cream. Season with salt and pepper. Make into small balls and into each press the halves of an English walnut. Lay on young, crisp lettuce leaves and stand where it will get cold. When ready to serve pour over it mayonnaise dressing and send to the table with thin slices of toasted bread.

Orange Jumbles.

One-third cup butter, one cup sugar, one egg, one-third cup milk, 3/4 cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon orange extract. Cut with doughnut cutter, sprinkle with sugar and bake in moderate oven.

NEVER BEAT Your Carpets

It is a mistake to beat carpets; no one ever made one really clean that way. Beating only loosens up the dirt, instead of getting rid of it, and cuts the threads and stretches the fabric as well. Neither is it possible for you to watch your carpets without fading the colors and causing them to lose their brightness.

The best solution is to let us clean your carpets for you. None of the above faults can be found with our method. It is sanitary, removes every particle of dirt and freshens up the colors like new.

Call 126 and we will send our wagon for your carpets and deliver them after they have been cleaned.

Housewife Helps.

When grease has been spilled on the stove it can be quickly removed by washing with vinegar diluted with a little water. Apply with a black woolen cloth.

Vaseline stains are very hard to remove. Before washing they should be soaked in kerosene.

Black ribbon can be freshened by rinsing in hot coffee or in alcohol and wrapping around a glass bottle or jar to dry.

Cream that is to be whipped should be icy cold and preferably 24 hours old.

Bacon and Calf's Liver.

Both bacon and liver should be in thin slices. Fry the bacon and remove it as soon as it is done enough to a hot dish before the liver; flour and pepper the liver and place it in the pan; turn frequently until done, then place a slice of bacon on each slice of liver.

Make a gravy by pouring off the fat and dredging a little flour into the pan; pour in enough water to supply the quantity of gravy desired, add a tablespoon of lemon juice, boil, and pour upon the dish. Garnish with slices of lemon. Time, about ten minutes.

Steak in Olive Oil.

If troubled with indigestion prepare your steaks as the Californians do, a method as appetizing as it is wholesome and digestible. Heat two tablespoons of olive oil in a skillet, pound and flour your steak exactly as if using lard or butter, and fry in the hot oil, turning frequently to prevent crust forming. When the steak is removed, add a little butter to the contents of the skillet and make gravy as usual.

Winter Chili Sauce.

Two tomatoes, four onions and eight apples, chopped fine, four good teaspoons salt, two cups vinegar, nine heaping tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons whole cloves, two sticks cinnamon, pinch of cayenne pepper. Boil two hours.

Serve Baked Wafers.

Instead of plain crackers and cheese passed with the salad cover salted wafers with butter, sprinkle thickly with paprika and Parmesan cheese and brown in the oven.

FRESH FISH.

We get fish every Tuesday, Friday and Saturday. Bass, perch, shad, red snapper, jack salmon, etc.; all strictly fresh.—Cain's Cash Store, 112-114 West Main street.

PARDON FOR MISS MORRISON

Col. T. B. Murdock Is Trying to Interest Stubbs in the Case.

Topeka, April 23.—Another effort is being made to get a pardon for Jessie Morrison, the slayer of Mrs. Olin Castle, in Eldorado. Before he became governor W. R. Stubbs urged Governor Hoch to pardon Miss Morrison, but the governor did not do it, and now Mr. Stubbs has a chance to do the same thing that he urged Governor Hoch to do.

The movement for a pardon was started by Colonel T. B. Murdock, editor of the Eldorado Republican, and state game and fish warden, who had a long talk with the governor yesterday. Colonel Murdock had a letter from Miss Morrison's sister, saying that Miss Morrison's father is in failing health and urging the Eldorado editor to lay the matter before the governor and do what he could to get a date set for the hearing at once, so Mr. Morrison could see his daughter before he died.

A KANSAS TOWN WILL SAVE

Has Inaugurated the Commission Form of Government.

Independence, Kan., April 23.—Independence is now under commission form of government. Mayor Moses and Commissioners Gilmore and Orwig taking their positions at 4 o'clock last afternoon, following a brief meeting of the council.

The new commissioners go into office with the necessity for economy staring them in the face, the old government having expended 65 per cent of the current levy and the law prohibiting the further issue of warrants.

Prevent Rug Ravelling.

A better way than binding, to prolong the usefulness of a Smyrna rug that has been whipped out at the ends and has a good center, is to cut off old binding and ravel until you have about three or four inches of warp. Begin at one edge and take up six strands of warp and with the aid of a crochet or button-hook knot securely against the rug. By taking three of these strands in each hand and pulling in opposite directions the knot will slide closer to the rug and prevent the "flier" from ravelling. Continue to tie the strands until the warp is all knotted.

Curried Eggs.

Slice two onions and fry them in butter, add a tablespoonful of curry powder and one pint of good rich stock; stew until the onions are tender, add a cup of cream (if not thick cream, thicken with rice flour), simmer a few minutes, add eight or ten hard boiled eggs, cut in slices, allowing the eggs to become hot, but not to boil. A nice breakfast dish during the Lenten season.

Sago Blancmange.

Soak five ounces of sago in 1 1/2 pints water for four hours. Pour away any water that is not absorbed and pour over 1 1/2 pints of boiling milk, add three ounces of sugar. Let all cook very gently till the sago is done and the milk absorbed. Flavor with vanilla, and add a little cochineal to color it, then pour into a wet mold. Turn out to serve.

Currant Fritters.

One and one-half cups fine bread crumbs, 1 1/2 cups sweet milk, two-thirds cupful of flour, half teaspoon baking powder, quarter of a pound of thoroughly washed currants, two eggs, two tablespoons sugar, a small lump butter. Mix all together, flavor with little nutmeg, and drop in spoonfuls of boiling lard and fry a nice brown.

CUTICURA CURED HIS SORE EYES

When 63 Years Old Eye-Balls and Lids Became Terribly Inflamed—Was Unable to Go About—Home Remedies and Professional Treatment were Equally Unsuccessful.

TOOK FRIEND'S ADVICE: HAS NO MORE TROUBLE

"About two years ago my eyes got in such a condition that I was unable to go about. They were terribly inflamed, both the balls and lids. I tried home remedies without relief. Then I decided to go to a family physician, but he didn't help them. Then I tried two more of our most prominent physicians, but my eyes grew continually worse. At this time a friend of mine advised me to try Cuticura Ointment, and after using it about one week my eyes were considerably improved and in two weeks they were almost well. They have never given me any trouble since. I was then sixty-three years old and am now sixty-five. I shall never fail to speak a word of praise for the Cuticura Remedies when I have an opportunity, and I trust that this letter may be the means of others being cured as I have been. G. B. Halsey, Mouth of Wilson, Grayson Co., Va., Apr. 4, 1908."

MISSING DIVINE IS HOME

"THREE GREAT TROUBLES OF SACRED NATURE," SAYS REV. ROBERT LESSING.

RETURNED AFTER AN ABSENCE OF WEEK

Friends Declare Eye Affection Prevented Missionary Work—Was Studying His Bible Out in the Woods.

St. Louis, Mo., April 23.—"I had three great troubles which were constantly before my mind, which were very painful and the nature of which I deem sacred and would not divulge to my dearest friend or relative," said the Rev. Robert W. Lessing, pastor of the Presbyterian churches of Moselle and Pacific, Mo., last night, on his return to St. Louis, after a mysterious disappearance of a week.

Rev. Lessing was found at Des Arc, Mo., by Rev. W. W. Strotter, pastor of the Presbyterian church at that place, after he had been wandering about aimlessly since he disappeared. Rev. Lessing arrived in St. Louis shortly after 4 o'clock last afternoon and was met at Union station by Rev. J. J. Johnson, pastor of the Winnebago Presbyterian church, with whom he made his home while in St. Louis at 3433 Winnebago street.

"I have had great mental trouble, such as I can not tell anyone," continued Rev. Lessing, "and while I was studying my Bible, as is my usual custom, last Friday in the woods near Moselle, I think I was stricken by the sun, as I had no hat on at the time. Soon after I finished my work I arose and started off somewhere—I did not know just where."

"From that time on I seemed to be out of my head, and am not right yet, though I feel better than I did. I need rest, lots of rest, which I am going to take. I am very glad to be home again. I love the whole Johnson family. I walked twenty miles yesterday, from Ironton to Des Arc, so you see I am not physically ill, but mentally."

"After I left the Johnsons last week I went to Pacific, then to Moselle, and then Friday came back to St. Louis and spent the night with friends with whom I formerly lived."

"I did not seem to know where I was going, and can not give you a good account of my wanderings. After leaving St. Louis Saturday morning I went to Festes and did a little printing work there. I remained at Festes over Sunday. After leaving Festes I walked a little every day and visited Bonne Terre, Bismarck, Ironton, Des Arc and other towns."

"I kept on wandering and did not fully realize just where I was or what I was doing until yesterday afternoon, when I arrived at Des Arc, after walking the twenty miles from Ironton."

Rev. Lessing appeared last night to be a man in some deep trouble. His face wore an anxious and drawn look and he appeared ill at ease. His eyes were red. He spoke slowly. Asked if he intended again taking up his church work at Pacific and Moselle, he said he did not know.

Mrs. Johnson, wife of Rev. Johnson, said earlier in the evening that Lessing had some time ago complained to her of his ill luck in not being able to go with a party of missionaries to China on account of the condition of his eyes.

Remarkable Educated Horse.

The remarkable sagacity of Trixie the educated horse that was killed in a railroad wreck recently, is vouched for by Mrs. Louise Culp, of Cleveland O., who saw the animal while it was on exhibition at the Jamestown fair.

"Spell the lady's name," said Trixie, owner to the horse. "Her name is Louise"—dividing the syllables and pronouncing them "Lo-es."

The horse promptly spelled the name and spelled it phonetically—"Lo-es."

About two months later, when he had become acquainted with the name, he also conformed to the spelling and picked it out properly. Lo-u-i-s-e.

What puzzles the students of natural history is how the horse learned to spell at all.

LIVE AFTER DEATH

VITAL ORGANS SLOW TO CEASE FUNCTIONS.

All Parts of the Body Do Not Simultaneously Give Up Their Work—Where Science Admits Itself at Fault.

To the unscientific citizen it is something of a surprise to learn that large parts of the body are alive and useful after the phenomenon popularly known as death has taken place.

Few of us suspect, for example, that our kidneys and hearts after we have died ourselves can in most cases be resuscitated and that if by some surgical miracle they could be transplanted into another body they would quickly resume their functions.

This, however, is a well demonstrated medical fact.

The human heart has been removed from the body more than 20 hours after death and made to beat again. Dr. Carrel of the Rockefeller institute has taken the heart from one dog and inserted it in the neck of another, connecting the aorta with the carotid artery of the new heart and the vena cava with its jugular vein. In a few moments the live dog had two hearts rhythmically beating, one recording a pulse of 88 and the other 100.

Science has yet formed no precise definition of death, says McClure's. The human body teems and quivers with life, only a small part of which becomes a part of individual consciousness.

An artery, thoroughly disinfected, placed in an ordinary culture tube and then closed to the access of all bacteria, will not putrefy. Under ordinary circumstances, however, it will undergo autolytic disintegration. Complete desiccation will preserve it against this latter process.

Autolysis does not take place except in the presence of water, this explains why Egyptian mummies, which were thoroughly dried before being placed away in the tomb, have resisted for 30 centuries the autolytic ferment. Normal blood serum is another substance which inhibits to a considerable degree autolytic degeneration.

Cold, while it does not entirely check the process, makes it exceedingly slow. It is upon refrigeration that Dr. Carrel has thus far chiefly depended for preserving arteries. In order to prevent putrefaction he places them in sterilized culture tubes and then he puts away the tubes in large ice chests, which maintain a temperature just above the freezing point. Here they live in a condition of suspended animation.

Dry and shriveled as they appear, they are still living tissue, and although the animals from which they have been taken have long since gone to their final rest these fragments, if placed in a new living host, once more take up the thread of existence. That the arteries could be removed from a man recently dead and have their vitality and usefulness preserved in this same fashion is certain.

Watchman Properly Incensed.

When the bell rang in hawk and ladder No. 22 at Ninety-eighth street and Amsterdam avenue, New York, early the other morning, the man on the desk yelled, "Hurry up, boys; it's the big hotel just around on Broadway. I think!" The firemen hustled into place, and the big triple team of blacks dashed to the scene of the blaze. It was dark and the flames were visible a block off. Driver Veith lashed the horses, and they were on the spot in a jiffy.

"Gee!" howled Fireman Muir, "it's only the watchman's shanty; but I'll bet he's asleep."

Sure enough, the fat old man who is looking nights to see that the water pipes, each of which weighs half a ton, are not stolen, was dragged out in the open air.

"I'll have the law on you," he cried, "wak'in me up. I'm the watchman on the job."

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the heart, and the stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine is dark, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggists recommend and sell.

RAMSEY'S

Sixth and Ohio Sts.

SEDALIA, MO.

Wiped Out by Massacres.

Bierut, April 23.—The Armenian population at Antioch and vicinity has been practically wiped out in the massacres of the last few days by the Moslems.

Thousands of destitute widows and orphans are still in the district, unable to escape.

Work of Bees.

Three hundred billion bees made enough honey during last year to fill a train of cars long enough to reach from New York to Buffalo. At the low wholesale rate of ten cents a pound it was worth $25,000,000, and if the 700,000 bee-keepers of the country had worked as industriously and skillfully as did the bees, the weight of the output would have been three times as great and the value $75,000,000.

In one year the bees have sent to market a product worth nearly as much as the barley crop, three times as much as the buckwheat crop, $6,000,000 greater than the rye crop, and nearly $5,000,000 greater than the rice crop. All the rice and buckwheat grown on an aggregated area of 2,126 1-3 square miles did not reach to the value of the honey by $151,259.

To appreciate these results, one must necessarily strive also to appreciate the number of insects at work. That is rather difficult, for 300,000,000 stretches a long way beyond intelligent human comprehension. The human mind doesn't work well in anything mathematically greater than thousands.

Small Scale Love.

Dr. Pierce Underhill, whose book on divorce and marriage is to appear next month in Indianapolis, delivered a lecture on divorce recently in a fashionable Indianapolis church.

"Extravagance," he began, "is one of the big causes of divorce. My cousin, a bank clerk, married a pretty girl and took her home to a nice little flat. But she frowned and bit her lip."

"Oh, Jack," she said, "I can't live in a tiny flat like this!"

"You don't love me when you say that, darling," said my cousin.

"Oh, yes I do, but not on such a small scale."

Cause of Baldness.

After considerable jocularity the pair turned to the pearly-pated stranger and one said:

"My friend and I have been discussing the cause of baldness, but we can't seem to agree. Would you mind telling us what you regard as the real cause of baldness?"

The stranger wheeled about, eyed his questioners fiercely and snorted: "Brains!"

Family Likeness.

"They say baby looks just like me." "Well, that's just what I wanted to say, but I was afraid you might be offended."—New York Herald.

Prohibition Up in Florida.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 23.—The state-wide prohibition constitutional amendment measure, which passed the senate yesterday, came up in the house today.

Hungry Thespians.

They looked like actors, or rather they looked as if they would have been actors if they would have recognized their ability and given them a job, says "The Stroller" in the Portland (Me.) Express. Just now they were staring through the window of a popular-priced restaurant in Congress street, absorbed in the unerring accuracy of the chef as the griddle cakes were flipped into the air by him, only to fall gracefully back into the grease mark they had just quitted. The tall man jingled some keys in his pocket and the little one pulled his belt another notch.

"Lord!" said the big one; "I'm hungry enough to eat my own words."

"I'm in just as bad," complained the little one. "I feel as though I could bolt a front door."

SYSTEM IS PERFECT

ERRORS IMPOSSIBLE IN UNCLE SAM'S MONEY FACTORY.

Institution Is Proud of the Fact That in Its Entire History Not One Plate Has Ever Gone Astray.

The system of checks employed to prevent irregularities in Uncle Sam's money factory, otherwise known as the bureau of engraving and printing, is as complete as human ingenuity can devise.

Each die, roll and plate has a number in sequence stamped upon it and by said number it is recorded. Each employee receiving a piece of steel to work on is charged with the same by its number and a description of the engraving to be made thereon. He is not allowed to leave the building, says the National Magazine, until the same has been returned and checked into the vaults presided over by the custodian of dies, rolls and plates. This officer is the representative of the secretary of the treasury.

In the custodian's office complete records and the history of 18,000 dies, 19,000 rolls and 18,000 plates are on file. Once a year this office is audited and checked up by a committee appointed by the secretary of the treasury, each piece of engraved work being identified and compared with the records of the office.

This is an arduous duty and it usually takes three months.

After finding the records correct the committee receipts to the custodian for all obsolete dies, rolls and plates which have become worn by use or no longer serviceable on account of legislation; these are carefully checked and packed in sealed boxes and taken to the navy yard, where they are totally destroyed by melting in a blast furnace.

Last year the committee destroyed 3,482 pieces of engraved work, packed in 247 boxes and weighing 35,757 pounds.

Each morning the custodian issues all plates to the printing division and all dies, rolls and plates necessary to the engravers on requisitions and receipts for them upon their return at the close of the day's work, when they are stored in two large steel fireproof vaults of modern construction protected by time locks.

The 18,000 plates represent all classes of work, including commissions, checks, drafts, portraits of deceased members of congress, certificates, diplomas, inaugural souvenirs, national bank currency, United States and treasury notes, gold and silver certificates, bonds and cigar, cigarette, tobacco, snuff, beer, oleomargarine, rectified spirits, postage, documentary, customs and proprietary stamps. The system of checks and rules governing the custody of the work is so perfect that in the history of the bureau not a single plate has gone astray.

Society Girl Chooses Stage.

Much interest is being displayed in Washington social circles in the forthcoming appearance of Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the secretary of agriculture, in concert this season. She has given up a social career as a cabinet hostess for a professional career. From the concert stage this season she expects to progress to the grand opera stage next season. She has for five years been a diligent pupil of Jean de Reszke, the great tenor, in Paris, and has prepared herself for grand opera with a repertoire of many operas. Although she has been home for four weeks, she has taken no part in any affairs given for her father, and has allowed none to be given for her, as she is observing the strictest discipline as to her health and strength for her concert appearances in the spring. She will be heard here about the middle of the month.

Progress in Massachusetts.

Massachusetts last election showed a "no-license" majority of 18,710 votes; 20 of her 33 cities are without saloons, and so are 260 of her 321 towns.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

PRAIRIE FIRE BURNS 14 DAYS

Two Hundred Thousand Acres Swept Near Pecos, Tex.

Pecos, Tex., April 23.—After burning fourteen days, sweeping an area of 200,000 acres and causing an estimated loss of $50,000, a prairie fire was extinguished yesterday near this town. The flames at night could be seen seventy-five miles.

Following advices that the prairie fires near Pecos have been extinguished reports reached here today that large fires are sweeping the country near Toyah, Maria and Marathon, destroying all in their path. More than 100,000 acres have been swept clean at Toyah. No rain has fallen for six months.

WANT WALMSLEY APPOINTED

Petition Asking That He Be Made Game Warden.

Jefferson City, April 23.—A petition asking the governor to appoint Harry R. Walmsley, of Kansas City, to the office of state game warden, under the new game law, was handed the executive this morning by his three political and personal friends, Ernest Sweeney, George Peterson and William Buchholz.

Rumor has it that the governor is being pressed to appoint Jesse L. Tolbert, one of the only two unprovided for unsuccessful candidates upon the last republican ticket. The Kansas City candidate is at the very fore front of fur and feather lore.

FIRE ROUTS AGED INMATES

Infirmiry Near Mount Vernon Struck by Lightning and Destroyed.

Springfield, Mo., April 23.—The infirmary of Lawrence county, located near Mount Vernon, was destroyed by fire during a thunder storm late Wednesday night.

A bolt of lightning struck a chimney and set fire to the structure. The twenty-five inmates escaped without injury and no one was hurt by the bolt. Many of the aged men and women suffered from exposure after being removed and the lives of three or four of them are in danger.

The building was of brick, three stories in height, and was valued at $15,000. It was insured for $7,500.

PROHIBITION REPORT SOON

Senate Committee Will Give Others a Chance to Be Heard.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 23.—The chairman of the senate committee on constitutional amendments received telephone messages from Judge William H. Wallace and the Rev. Albert Bushnell yesterday, asking that they be heard on the question of prohibition before the committee makes its report to the senate.

The chairman said he would give them a hearing early next week and said that he believes the hearing will be Monday or Tuesday night.

DYNAMITE IN HIS BED

Assassin Killed a Tennessean as He Slept—Wife Uninjured.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 23.—Rudolph Buol, 35 years old, was assassinated late Wednesday night while asleep.

The murderer opened Mr. Buol's bedroom window, placed a stick of dynamite on his bed and exploded it with a fuse. Buol was killed instantly. His wife, who was asleep at his side, escaped injury.

Figures on Drink Question.

Speaking before the Church of England Temperance society recently the bishop of London said that, as the result of an inquiry regarding the drink evil, 15 doctors stated that in the middle class there was a decrease of drinking, 88 in fashionable practice spoke of the increase among the well-to-do, and 93 of the increase among working women. At the request of the home office 23 London public houses were watched for four days, and 39,540 women, with 10,471 children, entered. The chief cause, said the bishop, of drinking among the well-to-do was want of occupation; among the poorer classes it was overwork and overworry.

NEW OBJECTION FOR PAVING

Streets Become Speeding Courses for Reckless Automobilists.

Springfield, Mo., April 23.—The injury to 4-year-old George Wood, son of a traveling salesman, who was run down by a speeding automobile a few nights ago, has resulted in opposition developing to the paving of a number of the principal streets of Springfield by property owners who are blessed with large families.

The claim has been made before the city council, which is meeting to have a number of residential streets improved, that the street on which the Wood boy was run down has been used by motorists as a speeding course ever since it was paved. Property owners assert that if other streets are paved they will soon become racing courses and that the lives of citizens will be endangered.

THINKS HUSBAND KILLED

Corsicana Woman Here Fears for Her Spouse in Oklahoma.

Oklahoma City, Ok., April 23.—Mrs. Gamp Ward, who arrived here yesterday from Corsicana, Texas, with her three small children appealed to the police to find her husband, whom she expected would meet her at the depot. Mrs. Ward says that her husband had considerable money and she fears that he has been killed and robbed. The family intended moving to this city to live.

ALL FOR A DOLLAR

SEEING WASHINGTON FROM THE RUBBER-NECK MOTOR.

"Humor" Handed Out in Large Chunks, But the Visitors Are a Somewhat Unappreciative Lot and Refuse to Laugh.

The managers of the Washington rubberneck motor car advertise that it costs a dollar to "see Washington."

They're mistaken. You get your dollar's worth from the spieler's jokes. Seeing Washington is thrown in for good measure. The man in charge of the waiting room takes the whole proposition most seriously, which, after all, is quite the correct view, as you discover after the first few minutes of navigation.

"The company supplies all the trimmings?" you inquire as you buy the ticket. "There's a good spieler to tell us all about it?" "We employ an exceedingly competent lecturer, sir," is the replying reply, "to describe the places of interest that the car passes, including the former homes of Bally Madison, Charles Sumner and Daniel Webster, as well as the British embassy, the—"

"Whereupon you flee, leaving him still talking. The lecturer proves to be a slender young man, with a scraggly mustache, a serious face, a mouth very full of teeth and a voice out of all proportion to the rest of his person. The lecture proceeds with ease and precision. You might almost think yourself listening to a Burton Holmes travelogue in Convention hall, when, without warning, with no change of voice, tone or expression:

"Upon the left the brick house directly opposite is the home of Speaker Cannon. You will observe the conspicuous chimneys upon the ends. They are to furnish drafts for Uncle Joe's cigars."

It's all so extremely serious that nobody ventures a smile. Very likely nobody has noticed it. The monotone goes on:

"Directly in front of the automobile is the Army and Navy club, the haunt of veterans of battles and battles."

More serious gazes. "We are approaching," the spieler continues, after a moment's delay, "the city home of John R. McLean. Observe the jail-like effect of the house. I leave it to you to decide how long he is in for."

The motor crowd is unmoved. "The house upon the right was designed by a woman. There are people mean enough to say it looks like."

Not a ripple. "In the bureau of engraving and printing yonder where the currency is made, a single dollar bill is said to be counted 54 times. That probably accounts for why it is so difficult to get."

The audience is glummer than before. Apparently the solemnity has worked in so that everybody is afraid to talk.

"The house on the corner—not the one with the iron bars"—it is one of the rules of the spieler's union to say "iron"—"is the home of Representative and Mrs. Longworth. Mrs. Longworth is the president's daughter. It is understood that she will have the color of the ivy on the house changed soon to Alice blue."

The car is on the verge of tears. For the first time the spieler takes official cognizance of the attitude toward his witticisms. "I may say here," he continues, still solemn, "that there are no blue laws in the District of Columbia. The lid is off. You may laugh with impunity at jokes."

"We may," says the man in the back seat, "but we can't drive on."

But the lecturer hasn't even noticed him. His expression never varies.

"The large building with brass railings immediately to the left—"

There's a man who will make his mark some day unless they catch him and bury him under a government job.

Defense of Canned Products.

That foods properly canned do not deteriorate with age was a statement made at a dinner of canners in Chicago a few days ago. "Suppose a customer desired a can of corn on February 22, 1920," said one of the speakers, "and was given corn canned in 1909. It would be rejected with a demand for 'something fresher,' and, although the 1909 article would be found as fresh as that of 1920 it would be lost. At a recent banquet in London canned fruit taken from the ruins of Pompeii was found to be fresh and fine. There should be a law to compel the canning of all products in such a manner that they would keep for ages."

Telegraph Letters.

A novelty in correspondence, recently inaugurated by the French post office department, has met with such success that it might be tried all over the world. This is the telegraphic letter. The hours between 9 p. m. and 4 a. m. are not busy ones for the French telegraphic lines. So the postal authorities decided to turn these hours to some use. Therefore, if one misses the post for a provincial town in France to-day one can at the rate of 100 words for 20 cents have the letter telegraphed and delivered by the first post next morning. The scheme is very simple and is working admirably in Paris.

Quantity.

"Don't you admire the big hats that women are wearing?" "Well," answered Mr. Meekton, "I must say they look more like the money's worth."

Truth must be ground for every man by himself out of its husk, with such help as he can get indeed, but not without stern labor of his own.—Ruskin.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

KATY "UNION DEPOT" AT MOUND VALLEY, KANSAS, BURNED WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

COACH CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources For the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Word was received by telephone from Mound Valley today that the Katy union depot at that place was burned about 12:10 o'clock last night, says the Parsons Sun of Thursday.

The depot was a union depot for both freight and passenger trains, and all handcars on that section stopped at the depot. The loss to the Katy has not yet been estimated, but the loss to Mound Valley has been estimated by the coroner at $600,013.

There are few depots on the Katy system like that at Mound Valley. It was of the Noah-Ionic-Phoenician style of architecture, handed down from the dark ages during the first dark of the moon. The plans were drawn by an inmate of the blind asylum, and the contract awarded to an inmate of the lunatic asylum.

The facts are that the depot that burned last night at Mound Valley was nothing more than two box cars placed together, and this has been used by the Katy at Mound Valley since the depot burned there three years ago.

It was locked up at night, with no means of learning the whereabouts of the trains, and passengers were compelled to wander around town during the night while they waited for the trains, sometimes for hours after the train was due and payable.

So far as known there have been no fatalities resulting from these waits, but several have come near freezing to death, and one man, in wandering around, trying to keep warm from midnight until 5:34 a. m., lost his mind and did not find it until the next day.

No word has been received from Mound Valley as to what will be done regarding the burning of the depot, but it is understood that the flag will not be placed at half mast, or any other signs of mourning displayed. The Katy has purchased the ground for a new depot and it is understood that it will be built within the present century, and the burning of this depot may help to hasten the construction.

"Katy" Man Declares Rates Too Low.

The testimony of J. W. Walton, acting general superintendent of the Texas lines of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, was taken yesterday in the suit of that road and other southwestern lines to restrain the interstate commerce commission from enforcing the rates it has fixed for hauling cattle from Texas and Oklahoma to northern markets, says the Globe-Democrat of this morning.

Mr. Walton's testimony was in regard to the method of operating the lines, and tended to show that the railroads could not afford to haul cattle at the rate fixed by the commission.

The hearing, which is before Judge James A. Seddon, special master appointed by the United States circuit court of appeals, will continue today and tomorrow. Mr. Walton will be on the stand again today.

SALOON THOUGHT NO. 128.

The United States census returns for 1900 gives the amount of wages paid by the traffic to labor as $28,005,484, a little more than half the sum named in the circular. According to the census returns, the ratio of wages paid to the value of the products of liquor manufacturing has dropped, in the cost of distilled liquors from 0.69 in 1850 to 0.17 in 1900, and in the cost of malt liquors, from 0.15 in 1860 to 0.10 in 1900.

It is interesting in this connection to note that when the public spends $100

For distilled liquors, labor gets $1.08.

For malt liquors, labor gets $5.18.

For boots and shoes, labor gets $22.50.

For clothing, labor gets $22.10.

For bread, labor gets $17.94.

For average products of industry, labor gets $17.78.

Two engines were used to bring Missouri Pacific train No. 4 from Kansas City to Sedalia last night, returning the engine that pulled the second section of No. 1 there last afternoon.

G. W. Whitworth, an M. K. & T. train auditor, who has been temporarily running between Kansas City and Parsons, Kan., passed through here this morning en route to St. Louis to resume work.

A CLEANLY AGE.

Twentieth Century Ideas Incline Toward Sanitation and Preventatives.

Nowadays science believes that in cleanliness lies the secret of prevention of diseases.

To prevent a disease remove the cause.

Just as unclean habits breed many diseases, so careless habit will breed dandruff. Improper use of another's brushes, combs, etc., will surely cause dandruff, and, in time, will just as surely cause badness.

It's microbic infection, nothing more nor less.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, and causes hair to grow luxuriantly. Herpicide is absolutely free from grease or other injurious substances.

ASKED HIM TO QUIT NEILSEN

Frank Perley Drops Bomb in Turfman's Suit for $20,000.

San Francisco, April 23.—Alice Neilsen, the singer; Thomas H. Williams, president of the new California Jockey club, and Frank L. Perley, a well known theatrical manager, figure in a case in the United States circuit court here.

The latest development is Perley's answer to the suit filed by Williams to recover $20,000, half the expense incurred in starring the prima donna in 1899 in the "Singing Girl."

Perley declares that he was not a partner in the venture, but was employed at a salary of $100 a week to manage Miss Neilsen's tours and exhibits his contract with Williams to prove the assertion.

The manager also relates the circumstances attending the withdrawal of Williams from Miss Neilsen's financial support. This event took place at the close of the first season.

According to Perley, the turfman told him that he was willing to back other theatrical ventures, but would require him to sever his connection with Miss Neilsen, in consideration for which Perley was to receive 100 shares in the new California Jockey club and about $15,000 worth of stock in Mexican enterprises in which Williams was interested.

The agreement was that the stock was to be given to Perley when it should have drawn dividends equal to par value of the stock.

The theatrical man in his answer to Williams' suit asks that the stocks be delivered to him, together with the dividends.

ZINC ORE MADE DUTABLE

It Is Said an Agreement May Be Reached by Senate.

Washington, April 23.—Indications are that an agreement may be reached in the senate whereby zinc ore will be made dutiable at one-half cent per pound; that ore containing 25 per cent or less of zinc will be admitted free, and that some agreement will be reached concerning spelter.

As a compromise, one-third of a cent has been suggested.

Was in a Tight Place.

For many years old Col. Lee resided in Ninth street, New York, near the Hotel St. Denis. He is still remembered by hundreds of New Yorkers for his bright manner and happy, apt remarks. When the project for erecting an equestrian statue to Gen. Washington in Union square was proposed Col. Lee was entrusted with one of the subscription papers for circulation. Shortly after receiving it he approached a well-known citizen and asked for a subscription. But the citizen declined to subscribe, stating in a rather pompous manner:

"I do not consider, sir, that there is any necessity for a monument to Mr. Washington. His fame is undying; he is enshrined in the hearts of his countrymen."

"Is he enshrined in your heart?" softly inquired the colonel.

"He is, sir."

"Well, all I have to say," retorted Col. Lee, "is that he is in a tight place."—New York Press.

Elephant Turned Off Water.

Julie, one of the elephants at the Central park zoo in New York, gave a clever demonstration the other day of the wisdom of her tribe. There is a hydrant just outside of Julie's cage and until Saturday it had been fitted with a round handle to turn on and off the flow of water. On Saturday William Walker, the zoo plumber, fitted a new spigot on the hydrant and put it on a permanent T-shaped handle. Julie carefully examined the handle several times Sunday. She looked it over again, and after much fumbling, turned it and produced a flow of water. Then she put her trunk under the stream, filled it and drank copiously. What pleased Keeper Snyder more than anything else was that she carefully turned off the flow of water after drinking.

A Mistake.

"I thought from the way that girl talked, she was the whole thing in the vaudeville sketch, and when I went to see the act, all she did was to appear as an assistant in a milliner's shop, pasting inside bands on hats."

"Oh, then she probably gave you a wrong impression by telling you she was a headliner."

Of Course.

VICTIM OF THIEVES FINED

News of Theft Revealed That Man Had Cheated the Assessors.

Mount Vernon, Ill., April 23.—David Myers, 82 years old, whose fortune of $53,000 became known when it disappeared from a strong box at a family reunion, was fined $250 Wednesday for failure to report the money for taxation.

Myers was indicted by the grand jury after the money had been recovered. His son found $18,000 of it buried on the family farm. The remainder was found by detectives, but where it was found Myers has refused to reveal.

HADLEY'S MEASURE BEATEN

House Defeats Bill to Tax Corporations 25 Cents on $1,000.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 23.—The house today defeated the measure taxing corporations 25 cents for each thousand dollars of capitalization. A companion bill failed in the senate last week.

The proposed bill was one of the proposed revenue-producing measures of Governor Hadley.

DECREASE OF 400,000 ACRES

In Wheat in Kansas, Compared With the Past Year.

Topeka, Kan., April 23.—Secretary Coburn, of the state board of agriculture, in a statement issued today, says there has been a decrease of 400,000 acres in wheat in Kansas compared with last year.

He places the acreage at six millions and the average condition at 88 per cent.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES

In Turkey Causing Alarm to Mr. Taft and Advisers.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—President Taft and his advisers are greatly concerned for the safety of the American missionary interests in Turkey. They believe, however, that everything possible is being done by the American embassy at Constantinople for the protection of the missionaries.

WHEN SNOW WAS 40 FEET DEEP.

Took 600 Soldiers to Clear the Way in the English Blizzard of 1836.

The mogul engines which were stalled in the recent blizzard out west do not appear to be worthy successors of a certain Hercules engine which cut a noble figure in the English blizzard of 1836.

To appreciate the role played by the Hercules some idea must be given of the effect of the storm on other methods of travel. Fourteen mail coaches were abandoned on as many roads. Another was dug out of drifts five times between Exeter and London.

Another was buried so deep that it took 300 men, principally sappers and miners, several hours to make a passage to the coach and rescue the mails and passengers, while near Chatham the snow lay to a depth of 30 or 40 feet, the military being turned out to the number of 600 to clear the way.

In London the drifts were ten feet deep and hundreds of men and carts were employed hauling snow out to the fields in the suburbs. The markets were in a bad way. One day only four stall holders were able to reach a main market. Greens which a few days before the storm were being sold for three pence a bunch at market, now fetched from ten pence to one shilling, turnips, carrot and celery becoming

MRS. ANNA GEISCHEN DEAD

Funeral to Be Held at Smithton Saturday Afternoon.

Mrs. Anna Geischen, wife of Henry Geischen, of seven miles south of Smithton, died from cancer and a complication of diseases at her home at 10 o'clock last night, aged 40 years.

Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters, one aged 6 and the other younger, also her father, the Rev. Henry Maanen, of near Smithton. She had been ill three years.

The Rev. G. J. Jaeger will conduct funeral services at the German M. E. church at Lake Creek at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow forenoon, and burial will be made in the Smithton cemetery.

Because Her Hubby Failed to Kiss Her Good-By.

Hammond, Ind., April 23.—Because her husband, Thomas Adelsperger, failed to kiss her goodby, Lena Adelsperger, aged 18, killed herself with her husband's revolver. She left a note, which read:

"Tell mama good-by, and if I ever did anything to hurt or worry her, I ask forgiveness, for I tried so hard to do right, but I know it was a failure. Tom, I won't ask you to kiss me again when you don't want to. Goodby, our tired, tired girl, Lena Marr. Please, I would like to be buried in Ludington."

The shot was heard by Miss Lena Burkman, who notified the authorities. Mrs. Adelsperger had been married three weeks. She was the daughter of a wealthy resident of Ludington, Mich., and friends say she was homesick. Her maiden name was Lena Marr.

THE MURDER OF LAWYER

AN OKLAHOMA SHERIFF VISITS
SPRINGFIELD, SEARCHING FOR CLEWS.

THE ATTORNEY WAS SLAIN IN HIS OFFICE

Former Resident of Missouri Accused of Crime From Jealous Motives —Called Himself Wife of the Man Killed.

Springfield, Mo., April 23.—Hattie Yarbrough, formerly of Springfield, who has been in Oklahoma several years, is charged with complicity in the murder of John Bullet, a wealthy Indian lawyer or Claremore, Ok. Deputy Sheriff Newberry of Claremore is here with a warrant for her arrest, but she has not been found. When here recently she called herself Mrs. Bullet.

John Bullet was 55 years old and was a widower with two children. He was shot Wednesday night of last week while sitting at his office desk in Claremore by an unknown assassin, who fired from the dark through an open window and escaped.

Had he kept an engagement with Miss Pearl Eddleman, of Muskogee, to whom his betrothal was to have been announced the following day, it is probable he would have escaped death that night.

He had telephoned Miss Eddleman that owing to business affairs it would be impossible to call on her Wednesday night, but made an appointment for Thursday, when their engagement was to have been announced at a dinner party.

Although officers of the Claremore police force allege they saw a man hurry away in the darkness from the vicinity of Bullet's office about the time the shooting is supposed to have occurred, they made no arrest, not knowing of the tragedy at that time.

After his death, numerous pictures and letters of Hattie Yarbrough were found in Bullet's office and her alleged complicity in the murder was arrived at following the statement that she had been seen in Claremore the night of the tragedy, but had been out of the city for several days previous.

A warrant was at once sworn out for her arrest and Sheriff Hiram Stephens and Deputy Sheriff Newberry have since been visiting her old haunts, thinking that she might return for a visit with acquaintances.

Deputy Sheriff Newberry arrived in Springfield today and after being closeted with Sheriff Freeman, Chief of Police Loveless and Prosecuting Attorney J. C. West, visited a number of other places. The home of her sister, Mrs. Rose Steinar, who lives seven miles southwest of Springfield, was also watched, but without results.

Although she is reported to have been in Springfield six weeks ago, the last trace of her in this city was 11 weeks ago. She registered at several hotels as Mrs. John Bullet, Claremore, Ok., and stated to acquaintances here she was the wife of the wealthy Indian.

She left February 9, stating she was going to San Antonio, Tex., for her health. Nothing has been heard of her since, until the arrival of the Oklahoma officer. During her visit in Springfield, she referred to Bullet a number of times as her husband and talked to him over the long distance telephone on several occasions.

Although Deputy Sheriff Newberry today refused to discuss the case, it was learned that the woman is supposed to have gone to St. Louis following her alleged complicity in the murder. He left this afternoon, also refusing to announce his destination. It is believed he went to Rolla.

OVER ITS OWN ROADS

The St. Paul Road Will Not Share
Spokane Terminals.

Tacoma, April 23.—When the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound (St. Paul) makes its entrance into Spokane, it will do so on its own right of way, and over its own rails.

There have never been nor are there now any negotiations on foot between the managements of the Puget Sound and North Coast system for joint trackage agreements at Spokane terminals or at any other point in the state of Washington, according to an emphatic official statement from A. M. Ingersoll, vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound.

It was made as a result of reports from Spokane, that the Puget Sound would use the North Coast into Spokane from a connection with its main line at Tekoa.

The statement also refutes recent reports that Harriman will use the North Coast as a connecting link between the Oregon Short Line at Walla Walla or Wallula and North Yakima, and thence by cutoff from North Yakima to the nearest point on Puget Sound, presumably Ellensburg, gain access to the sound over the new line.

Malone, N. This father of many living generations is Moses Russell, who was born in St. Roque, Canada, and came to Franklin county in 1837. He lived at various times in North Bangor, Potsdam, Parishville and Colton. Forty-five years ago he settled in Moira.

He was married sixty-nine years ago to Rosa Larocque, to whom were born five children, three of whom are living. After the death of his wife, Russell married Mary Barlow, to whom were born ten children, all of

Nickel-Plater Wounds Two Others and Commits Suicide.

Chicago, Ill., April 23.—Harry L. Summers, a nickel-plater, yesterday shot and killed his wife, Henrietta, seriously wounded his 10-year-old daughter, Gladys, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Anna McKenzie, and then killed himself.

Mrs. Summers, after repeated quarrels, fled a week ago from her home to that of her mother, Mrs. McKenzie. Yesterday Summers entered the kitchen of the McKenzie home, where he found Gladys and the two women seated at dinner.

Without warning he opened fire with a revolver. Mrs. Summers fell dead at the first shot. Mrs. McKenzie and Gladys fled up a stairway, with Summers in pursuit. As they near-d the top he fired four shots, wounding Mrs. McKenzie in the back and arm and the child in the back.

One shot remained in the pistol, and with this Summers ended his own life just as a policeman burst into the house.

The Very Best Clothes in America—$10 to $25

When we say that CLOTHCRAFT CLOTHES are the very best clothes in America for the average man, we mean exactly that in so many words.

We know what the average man wants:

- Clothes with style
- Clothes that hold style
- Clothes that wear well
- Clothes at sensible prices.

We know that no other clothes in the world combine these four points.

Clothcraft Clothes

Style that Holds—$10 to $25

These clothes have style. They are pure wool (guaranteed) and are splendidly tailored. Hence they hold their style and wear well. And they sell at $10 to $25.

No other Guaranteed pure wool clothes sell at such prices. We know the honest men who make CLOTHCRAFT and we know the remarkable processes and methods that enable them to save several dollars in factory costs on each suit or overcoat.

We know that the savings from these processes enable the makers to put better woollens and better tailoring in these clothes.

We Know How They're Made
And so we know how these clothes can be made so astonishingly good at such low prices.

We have never dared make such strong claims for any other clothes. We have the future of our business to look to and we would not dare make these claims for CLOTHCRAFT if we did not know them to be true.

We wish we could make you realize that you will make a real mistake if you buy clothes without first looking at CLOTHCRAFT to judge these claims for yourself.

ASK BETTER TIN PLATE

IS NOW DEMANDED BY THE ENGLISH MARKET IN THEIR CANNED GOODS.

MAY RESULT IN GRAVE CONSEQUENCES

Manufacturers In Their Greed Have Cut the Quality Until the Interference of Authorities Is Necessary.

New York, April 23.—Arriving from an extended visit to the English canned goods markets, Isidor Jacobs, president of the California Canneries company, said in an interview that a very serious question is being raised in Great Britain, which may result in grave consequences to the future of the tinned goods trade between the United States and Great Britain.

"The government of the United Kingdom," he said, "have issued a report regarding the gradual deterioration (so they claim) in the quality of the tin plate coating used in the cans.

They have, after an investigation, issued a drastic warning, which has already aroused many of the trade, and unless something is done there is likely to be serious results.

"The government report is very comprehensive and complete, and has resulted in many of the larger buyers being afraid to go ahead with future operations.

"It is claimed that the tin plate is slowly lessening the quality of the tin coating, and as a result the goods will be gradually a menace to public health.

"It is said in England that wherever by reason of the tariff the export of good foreign plate has been barred, that the tin plate trust has by reason of the tariff advanced prices so that they could make enormous profits on inflated capital; that they have not even been satisfied with this, but in their greed have cut the quality until the active interference of the public health authorities is necessary."

Notice to Rock and Gravel Road Contractors.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, beauty, vigor and cheerfulness. When the disease is not soon cured, it is not uncommon when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

SNOW AT SPRINGFIELD, MO

Precipitation Continues Two Hours, but Melting Follows.

Springfield, Mo., April 23.—A snow storm began here last evening at 6 o'clock and lasted nearly two hours.

The flakes were unusually large and melted as soon as they struck the earth, soaked by recent rains.

The temperature at 7 o'clock was 34 degrees.

Continued cloudiness was expected to prevent frost and thus avoid the serious injury of the fruit crop.

HAYWOOD MADE TO APOLOGIZE

Secretary of Miners' Head Insults Flag, Army Man Defends It.

Sacramento, Cal., April 23.—William B. Haywood, president of the Western Federation of Miners, and his press agent, A. Meyer, were made to apologize by Capt. E. J. Cox, an officer in the United States army during the Spanish-American war, for an insult to the American flag.

The incident occurred in the lobby of the State House hotel, after Haywood had lectured. Meyer wore a red flag in his buttonhole and remarked that he hoped to live to see that emblem wave above the Stars and Stripes. Cox demanded an apology. "So you are Bill Haywood, eh? Well, you and your friend will eat your words or I will break your faces." Haywood apologized and left the hotel with Meyer.

Cox is a son of Major Raleigh Cox, of the United States army.

TO CONDEMN RIGHT-OF-WAY

First Step Taken for Kansas City and St. Joseph Road.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 23.—Suit to condemn a right of way through several tracts of land in the county south of the city was filed in the circuit court yesterday by the Interstate Railway company, which proposes to construct a double track road, with electricity as the motive power, between St. Joseph and Kansas City.

The proposed right of way is to be 100 feet in width. A right of way secured by the promoters of another interurban project, a part of which was graded, will be utilized to a considerable extent by the Interstate company. The Interstate has out of the 183 tracts of land through which it expects to build its line secured a right of way through all except fifty-three tracts, twenty-five in Buchanan county and twenty-eight in Platte county.

The Missouri River & Cameron Railway company, which proposes to parallel the Interstate line between St. Joseph and Kansas City, filed with the county court an application for a franchise to cross the highways of the county south of the city.

A NEW CULT IN FINANCE

IT IS BASED ON ASTRONOMY, ACCORDING TO CLAIMS OF ATTORNEYS.

OPPOSE APPOINTMENT OF A RECEIVER

If Things Go Awry, According to the New Cult, You Can Get Straightened Out by the Simple Changing of Name.

New York, April 23.—In opposing an effort of two members of the board of directors of the L. Schepp company for the appointment of a receiver and a temporary injunction restraining the company from engaging in further financial expenditures, counsel for the defense declared before Judge Dowling in the supreme court that a new cult based on astronomy was responsible for the action of the plaintiffs.

Charles E. Rushmore, counsel for Leopold Schepp and the other defendants, answered the argument of John S. Wise, counsel for Payne Kratzmar and Herman Obertubbesing. Mr. Wise alleged that Mr. Schepp was conducting the coconut business of the company on a high handed basis.

Mr. Rushmore declared that about a year ago Mr. Kratzmar joined a society, the chief doctrine of which is that everyone is born within certain prescribed astronomical cycles. If, he said, persons find themselves awry with the world they could do anything they desired to do with impunity if they changed their names to conform to their temperaments. He asserted that Kratzmar had changed his name from Louis to Payne since he joined the cult, and had not only induced many of the employees of the company to change their names, but had only recently told Mr. Schepp that he could corner the coconut trade of the world if he would change his name from Leopold to David.

"While Kratzmar had previously been a man of intelligence, he has claimed recently to Mr. Schepp and others that he is a prophet, and has the power to cure the halt and the blind," Mr. Rushmore continued.

In his affidavit Mr. Schepp sets forth that he discovered that Mr. Kratzmar was neglecting his duties because of his connection with this new idea, and declared that "his mind became obsessed with these theories to the detriment of his business."

Kratzmar's lawyer said that Mr. Schepp sent Kratzmar to the West Indies recently, and in his absence tried to have a guardian appointed for him. Mr. Wise asserted that his clients, Kratzmar and Obertubbesing, refused to do the bidding of Schepp and charged the latter with gross mismanagement.

BLAST BREACH IN ICE JAM

With Dynamite, Engineers Start Break in the Gorge.

Youngstown, N. Y., April 23.—A breach was made yesterday in the great ice jam which for ten days has held the lower Niagara in its grip and caused damage estimated at a million dollars.

Engineer Kunz and his men hammered away, and at 5 o'clock the blast from 150 pounds of dynamite sent a tiny rivulet trickling through the east side of the jam. At dusk further explosions and the ceaseless grinding of the floating ice had broadened the trickle to a cold stream.

SOUTH AFRICAN CORN

It is Possible It May Be Imported Into United States.

New York, April 23.—While it is admitted that there are uncertainties in connection with the importation of South African corn into the United States, it is stated that definite preparations are under way to try the experiment.

The announcement a short time ago, that certain large users were seriously considering the importation of South African corn caused much comment in the trade.

Owing to the free offerings of freight room in this direction and the low prices at which corn is selling in South Africa it was figured that it could be laid down in New York, duty and freight paid, for 58½ cents a bushel, in comparison with 74 cents for the July option with which it would compete.

It was pointed out, however, that there were certain physical difficulties in the way, which might prove insurmountable, chief among them being the effect on the grain while passing from a temperate zone through the torrid and again into a temperate zone on a voyage of six weeks' duration.

It was admitted that the "heating" or fermentation of the corn while confined in the ship's hold might cause irreparable injury to the grain, but much would depend on the condition at the time of shipment.

SIMMONS HARDWARE COMPANY (Inc.), St. Louis and New York, U.S.A.

HON. CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW

THE SENIOR SENATOR FROM EMPIRE STATE IS 75 YEARS OF AGE TODAY.

HAS HAD A TRULY REMARKABLE HISTORY

Was Graduated From Yale College in 1856, When 22 Years Old—Reputation as an Orator Gave Him Great Prominence.

New York, April 23.—On this day in April in the year 1834, in the old New York homestead, which has been in the Depew family for over 200 years, Chauncey M. Depew was born. His father's family was of old Huguenot stock. On his mother's side he was descended from Roger Sherman, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

As a boy he went to school in his native village where he was noted more for his ability as an athlete and his humor than for industry in his studies.

He entered Yale at 18 years of age and graduated in 1856. Leaving college, he began the study of law in the office of Hon. William Nelson, of Peekskill, and was admitted to the bar in 1858.

Although so young, he had gained a reputation among politicians and he was sent to the republican state convention in 1858. He left practice in 1859, although successful and a good worker, to take the stump and made a deep impression as an orator and logician before large audiences.

Despite his interest in the sports and pleasures of school life, Mr. Depew had obtained thorough knowledge of classical lore, which enabled him to draught, so to speak, on the master minds of yore.

In the following year he was elected to the assembly as a democrat, although himself a republican, simply because of his personal popularity.

He was re-elected in 1862 and appointed chairman of the committee of ways and means. He was elected secretary of state by the republican party by 30,000 plurality, and during the campaign showed unusual capacity for work.

He left politics to take the appointment offered him by Commodore Vanderbilt as attorney for the New York and Harlem River Railroad Co. He gave up politics altogether to devote all his energies to business.

When the N. Y. & H. R. combined with the New York Central, Depew became attorney for the combination. His rise in railroad work was remarkable, as unlike most railroad men, he had no practical experience, but rose simply because of his character and ability and his high standing as a man of affairs.

He became general counsel for many roads, including the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Michigan Central, the Chicago and Northwestern, the St. Paul and Omaha and the West Shore and Nickel Plate.

Mr. Depew was a candidate for lieutenant governor on the Greeley ticket, which movement was a memorable failure. Depew's reputation as

THE THREE SHOOK DICE

To Decide Who Should Wed Wealthy Widow and Rob Her.

Butte, Mont., April 23.—Mike Smith, a teamster, disappeared four months ago, taking with him $1,960 belonging to his bride of a week, a wealthy widow. Smith was caught, but later released, as it is no crime to take a wife's money in Montana.

Sunday Walter Cole was arrested with $1,500 in his possession, and he confessed that it was his bride's money. Cole could not be held as an accessory, and through him it was learned that Smith, himself and another person had shaken dice to decide who should wed the widow and rob her of her money, it being agreed the trio should split it among themselves. Smith won.

The bride was given back her money by the authorities.

Mr. F. G. Fritts, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is best for women and children, as it is mild, pleasant and effective, and is a splendid spring medicine, as it cleanses the system and clears the complexion.—Arlington Pharmacy.

W. E. BARD DRUG CO.

HAS TOO MANY $10,000 BILLS

Embarrassed by $1,804,000 Payment From Waters-Pierce.

Austin, Texas, April 23.—The money with which to pay the Waters-Pierce Oil company's fine for violating Texas anti-trust laws, arrived here by express yesterday from New York.

It amounts to $1,804,000, including interest on the judgment of $1,623,900, and was accompanied all the way by armed guards. It is in currency, many of the bills being of $10,000 denomination.

Upon arrival here the money was divided into two lots and was deposited in two local banks, where it will remain until Saturday morning when it will be paid into the Texas treasury.

The banks where the money is on deposit are maintaining extra guards over the safe. The state is in a predicament as to what it will do with the many $10,000 bills that are in the lot, as bills of that denomination are not used to much extent in the ordinary business transactions.
